

Alfie on the train

Alfie queuing up to see the Sound of Music

Alfie outside the biggest Topshop in England-he was very excited and wouldn't stand still!

Alfie outside in the rain in front of Liberty,
the oldest shop in London

Alfie and the Regent's street lights

Alfie ready for a meal at Garfunkel's

TRAVEL SUMMARY

Destination: London including the Sound of Music at the London Palladium and the Regent Street lights.

Duration: Day trip

Date: 5 December 2008

Weather: Cold and raining!

Travel: On the train and it took 1 hour. I didn't enjoy travelling, it was bumpy and made me feel travel sick! We travelled through Gatwick airport.

Activities: Sightseeing, a musical and a meal

Food: I had pizza, it was really nice and really filling, which was good as I was hungry!

Drink: Coke!!

Capital: London

Interesting facts:

We saw a big Christmas tree in Trafalgar Square which was given to the people of England by the people of Norway to say thank you for helping them in the Second World War.

Opinion of destination:

It was very busy but I liked all the lights and the show was amazing. I probably will go back.

Christmas tree lighting ceremony

Each year since 1947, a Christmas tree has been given to the people of London from the people of Norway in gratitude for Britain's support for Norway during World War II. For many Londoners the Christmas tree and carol singing in Trafalgar Square signal the countdown to Christmas.

This year the Christmas tree lighting ceremony was on Thursday 4 December 2008, with the Mayor of London, the Lord Mayor of Westminster and the Mayor of Oslo taking part, and carol-singing led by the Choir of St Martin-in-the-Fields.

